Lexow Witness Heyman a Regular Mine of Information.

This Week's Sensations to Be Follewed by Others Mere Startling.

Unfortunate Ceals Urchittel May Yet Secure Justice.

Greater sensation has been caused by Committee in the last three days than in any of its previous hearings, or it may more properly be said, in nearly all of them taken together.

That, at least, is what a great many New Yorkers, who have followed the proceedings from day to day, with the most absorbing interest, say, and in the opinion of those connected with the investigation itself they are not far out of

Although the Committee has now suspended its work for a time, the activity of Mr. Goff and his assistants is urremitting, and it was learned this morn ing that they are not only following up some of the important threads of evidence which have been spun by the witnesses in the last three days' session, but that they are preparing even greater sensations for the future.

It is said that a vast deal more im-portant information is still to come from the witness Abraham Heyman, who was an employee of McLaughlin and Dan Scribner in the gambling business, and who gave such damaging testimony yesterday in regard to Capt. Schultz, and his alleged partnership with the gamblers of the Twentieth FreeInct.
Alderman Parks was heavily interested, according to this witness, in several notorious gambling dens in that locality, and Capt. Schultz himself was the official who always gave the gang a toneit tip when any raid was contemplated. These raids, however, were evidently not intended to strike fear to the hearts of violators of the law, but yerely o pull wool over the eyes of the lable.

water trade among the saloon-keepers of the districts which Munzinger is said to control.

In fact, Heyman's testimony has opened up so many avenues for investigatior that the Senate Committee would have all it could do for a week to follow them up thoroughly.

One of the most aggravated instances of police persecution yet related to the Committee was the story of Ceala Urchittel, the poor Russian widow, who was not only robbed of her money, thrown out of her business and maltreated by a ward detective of the Delancey street station, but was deprived of her three children whom she did not see for more than a year.

"We are going to follow up this case," said Mr. Moss this morning, "and bring the author of this woman's misfortunes to iustice if we can.

"It is unfortunale that the woman does not know the name of her persecutor, and her memory seems to have been affected by her sufferings. In fact, she was several months in a hospital after they had succeeded in getting a i she had and robbing her of the children.

"Our detectives are hard at work on the case. We propose to take the without the time her persecutions began.

"As nearly as we can ascertain this was about a year and five months ago. Her recollection that the detective, who insulted her and searched her clothing, even to her stockings, divided the $25 he got from her with Mochs Heckstine, a heeler of Silver Dollar Smith's, at Essex Market, and then they put their heads together and compelled her to sell her little cigar store at Pitt and Ridge streets, to satisfy her demands. "Interpreter Ehrlick, of the United Hebrard of the police, has made an investigation into the case, and finds that she only did a legitimate business at her store, that she had always borne a good character, and that her friends and neighbors generally resurated her as the victim of malice and rapacity of the police of the precinct."

Mrs. Urchittel has now a little stand up on Broadway and is making enough to get thone and the stand up on Broadway and is making enough to get sl "This scheme has been generally adopted by the stage girls at work, and it has more than once been effective when Capt, Price's men were on their rounds."

Bowery Bay Beach Suicide Buried in an Unmarked Grave.

The body of the young man which was found in a clump of bushes alongside the road to Bowery Bay Beach yesterday and afterwards taken to the Morgue at Newtown was buried this morning by direction of Coroner Brandon. It was impossible to keep it longer.

Up to the time of the interment noone had called to identify it. Identification is only possible now from the clothing and the few articles found upon the body.

There is no doubt whatever that the man committed suicide. The body must have been lying in the bushes for a long time. Beside it was found a pistol with some of the chambers exploded. The man was young and rather undersized.

Matters Rapidly Shaping Themselves Towards a Settlement.

The investigation of the State Board of Arbitration and Mediation into the against the contractors, began at 10 clock this morning at the Broadway Central Hotel. Commissioner William Purcell, of the Board of Arbitration, presided, Commissioners Edward Feeey, Judge Gilbert Robertson and Charles Madden, Secretary of the Board, were

The Board decided to give the parties involved in the strike separate hearings. Accordingly, while the contractors, represented by Secretary Witkowsky and two other members of the Clothing Contractors' Mutual Protective Association, were presenting their side of the strike, the Committee of the strikers was kept waiting in another room,

Mr. Aritkowsky gave a resume of the strike. He stated that the men had justly rebelled against the hard task system that had prevailed "We have been willing to grant them the advance in wages and the hours

We have been willing to grant them the advance in wages and the hours of labor demanded," said Mr. Withowsky, "but we could not subscribe to the two other requirements, namely, that we should exclude all Knights of Labor from our shorts, and that we should furnish bonds to the Brotherhood for the faithful performance of the agreement with the men."

Now that the Board of Arbitration has stepped in, it is believed that the strike will rapidly be terminated. Even without the intervention of the Board, the indications were all in favor of a speedy wind-up of the fight in favor of the strikers.

Of the $,000 men who struck, 3,000 are reported to have returned to work. One hundred and fifty contractors have signed the Brotherhood agreement, and several of the large Brondway manufacturers are inducing their contractors to sign.

Marcus & Bro., of 97 Canal street, sent their foreman, Mr. Schulman, to the strikers' headquarters, 412 Grand street, with three contractors, whom they had compelled to sign the agreement. The firm indorsed these contractors' bonds.

Many manufacturers are said to have determined to do away with the contractor system altogether. They are making arrangements to furnish shops of their own and put men to work in them.
